

Long Span Racking

Long Span Racking

Long Span Racking is a system that is used for products that are generally too big to fall into Short Span Shelving but not big enough to fit into the Pallet Racking range. The system is designed to store products that are of a medium weight duty and are of different shapes and sizes. The system is also used for a manual picking operation, but can be floor fixed if using small handling equipment.